

My Ideal Reading Place.

Points to think about /discuss with an adult or sibling:

- What makes this setting special?
- What would it sound like in this setting?
- What do you think the boy, girl and bird are reading?
- Do you think they enjoy reading?
- How long have they been here? How long will they stay for?
- Does anyone else know about this place?

Planning:

Use today's lesson to make thorough, detailed notes ahead of tomorrow's lesson when you have to describe 'My Ideal Reading Place'.

- Design your dream reading space. Where would it be? How would it be decorated? What reading material would you put in there (books, magazines, newspapers)? Which authors would you choose? How would you store the books? Would you allow other people to use the space?
- Make sure you really think about the description you will include, use all your senses. Remember your description must be more than a few lines long!
